The product terms provide that if certain exceptional events occur (1) adjustments may be made to the product and/or (2) the Issuer of the product may terminate the product early. These events are specified in the product terms and principally relate to the Underlying(s), the product and the Issuer of the product. For instance, these exceptional events are including but not exclusively limited to the cessation of an Underlying, tax events and the discontinuation of the Issuer's ability to carry out the necessary hedging transactions. In the event of termination, the Redemption Amount may possibly be significantly below the purchase price. Even a total loss of the investment is possible. The investor also bears the risk that the product will be called at an unfavourable point in time and the investor might only be able to reinvest the redemption amount on less favorable terms.

2. What are the risks and what could the investor get in return?

Risk Indicator

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because the Issuer is not able to pay the investor.

We have classified this product as 6 out of 7, which is the second-highest risk class.

This rates the potential losses from future performance at a high level, and poor market conditions are very likely to impact the capacity of the Issuer to pay the investor of the product.

The investor shall be aware of currency risk. The investor may receive payments in a different currency, so the final return that the investor will get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

This product does not include any protection from future market performance so the investor could lose some or all of its investment.

If the Issuer is not able to redeem the investor what is owed, the investor could lose the entire investment.

For detailed information about all risks please refer to the risk sections of the legal documentation as specified in the section 'Other relevant information' below.

The scenarios shown illustrate how the investor's investment could perform. The investor can compare them with scenarios of other products.

The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of the product varies, and are not an exact indicator. What the investor gets back will vary depending on how the market performs and how long the investor keeps the investment/product.

The stress scenario shows what the investor might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where we are not able to pay the investor.

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that the investor pays to the advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account the investor's personal tax situation, which may also affect how much the investor gets back.

3. What happens if the Issuer is unable to pay out?

The obligations of the Issuer under this product are guaranteed by a first demand guarantee of EFG International AG, Zurich, governed by Swiss law, which protects investors in case the Issuer is unable to fulfil its obligations under the product. A total loss of the investor's capital invested is possible if both the Issuer and the Guarantor are unable to fulfil their obligations in respect of the product and the guarantee, respectively. The product is a debt instrument and as such is not covered by any deposit protection scheme.

4. What are the costs?

The person selling to the investor or advising the investor about this product may charge other costs. If so, this person will provide the investor with information about these costs, and show the investor the impact that all costs will have on the investor's investment over time.
